

Food Empire claims top honours at Brands For Good Awards 2025

SINGAPORE – 23 July 2025 – Food Empire Holdings Limited (“Food Empire”, the “Company” and together with its subsidiaries, the “Group”) has been named “Champion” in the Leadership for Good category at the Brands for Good Awards 2025 gala dinner. The event, held at Orchard Hotel Singapore, and graced by Mr Edwin Tong, Minister for Law and Second Minister for Home Affairs, honoured approximately 40 companies for their impactful contributions.

This is Food Empire’s third time being honoured in this category but the first time it has been named Champion, affirming the positive social impact that the Group has made on the communities where it operates.

The Brands for Good Awards, established in 2018, has become a globally respected platform celebrating organisations that successfully integrate profit with purpose. The awards recognise excellence across four distinct categories, with the Leadership for Good category specifically honouring visionary leaders who drive meaningful change through sustainable and ethical business practices.

The selection process involves multiple rigorous stages, beginning with comprehensive eligibility screening before progressing to evaluation by an independent panel of industry experts. Judges assess nominees against stringent criteria including demonstrated social impact, sustainability initiatives, innovation, and overall business performance. The Champion designation represents the highest level of achievement, reserved for entries that demonstrate transformative impact and set new benchmarks for purpose-driven leadership.

Food Empire’s Executive Chairman, Mr Wang Cheow Tan, said: “I have always believed that true giving must come from the heart, this is a mantra we live by at Food Empire. Being named Champion in Leadership for Good is more than an honour; it validates our commitment to leading with compassion and integrity. We don’t view social responsibility as a corporate obligation, but as a genuine opportunity to make a difference. This has inspired us to push further in creating meaningful value for our shareholders and our community.”

As part of its ongoing social initiatives, the Company announced the “Food Empire Food Science & Technology Bursary” at National University of Singapore (“NUS”) earlier this year to undergraduates majoring in Food Science and Technology, who may require financial assistance.

In May 2025, Food Empire together with iFly Singapore, jointly hosted an indoor skydiving event for beneficiaries of VIVA Foundation for Children with Cancer, an organisation dedicated to saving the lives of children with cancer. This initiative reflects the Group’s ongoing commitment to community engagement.
